

There's a temporary booking stop from North Europe to Jordan

We have an update in connection with our news from December 29, 2021. Since then, the high backlog of cargo destined to Aqaba, Jordan has continued to develop. With this operational challenge in mind, we have to regretfully place a temporary booking stop for all new bookings from North Europe to Aqaba. This measure is in place with immediate effect.

Please know that this is a temporary situation, and we will keep you informed of any further developments and aim to re-open the booking acceptance as soon as this is operationally possible. We regret any inconveniences that this might cause, and please know that you can contact our customer service team at your location, who will guide you based on your individual situation.
