

06 April 2022

Shanghai Situation Update

Dear Valued Customer,

Please be informed that Shanghai area has imposed several restrictions and measures against Covid-19 spread and some of them are extended till further notice.

ONE is carefully monitoring the situation of Shanghai Port and Terminal from these measures and restrictions. Currently the Port and Terminal operations remain operational. However, trucking availability is very limited, and this has impeded clearance of import cargoes.

The resulting impact is that Yangshan and Wai Gao Qiao PH2, in particular, are encountered with critically high Dangerous Goods and Reefer yards utilisations. Due to operational constraints in the yard side, there is a possibility that certain DG Classes and Reefers may not be allowed to discharge if the quantity cannot be accommodated. In that case, we will arrange either COD change-of-destination to discharge at other ports or keep your cargo at other transshipment ports, and transport to Shanghai once the situation allows.

Situation is changing dynamically; we continue monitoring closely to bring you the latest information.

Should you require any information on specific shipments or sailings, please contact your local ONE Sales or Customer Service representative.

Yours faithfully,

Ocean Network Express Pte. Ltd.