

Notice - Declaration Requirement for Hazardous Chemical Containers at Shanghai Port

31 January, 2023

Dear All:

Based on the “Notification on Further Strengthening the Safety Management for Hazardous Chemical Containers” published by Shanghai International Port Group (SIPG) in June 2022, we would like to draw your kind attention to below matter.

The notification specifies the declaration requirement for all import/export/transship containers at Shanghai Port of hazardous chemicals listed on the “Catalog of Hazardous Chemicals (2015)” and are not dangerous goods obliged by the International Maritime Dangerous Goods (IMDG) Code.
(For example, sulfur and boric acid are not DG cargo, but they are regarded as Hazardous Chemical which has to meet the declaration requirement of SIPG).

The carrier or shipping agent has to submit mandatory documents to Shanghai terminal by email 24 hours prior to vessel arriving at Shanghai port.

The mandatory Documents include :

- Report on hazard classification and identification issued by a qualified third party
- Declaration of Operation of Dangerous Goods at Port

To prevent any delay, we would highly suggest customer (shipper or consignee) to submit mandatory documents to shipping agent two working days prior to vessel arriving at Shanghai port.

The shipper and the consignee have to take the responsibility jointly to make sure the requirement accomplished in time.

You can find the following information on our Shanghai office website

(http://yml.com.cn/cn/ASP/e-service/imp_query/imp_informDetail.aspx?k=13347&y=2022) :

- Notification Published by Shanghai International Port Group (SIPG)
- Catalog of Hazardous Chemicals (2015)
- Declaration Form of Operation of Dangerous Goods at Port

Should you have any questions or need more information, please contact below email address for further assistance:

- export containers at Shanghai Port : booking window
- import containers at Shanghai Port : cinb@yml.com.cn
- transship containers at Shanghai Port : cofc@yml.com.cn

Thanks and best regards,

Commercial Group

Yang Ming Marine Transport Corp.

